EXCEPTION TO ACCESSIBILITY DESIGN STANDARDS

An exception to the accessibility design standards for the subject improvement is required given that the proposed improvement is:

- Technically infeasible as an alteration to existing facilities.
- Structurally impracticable as new construction.

REASON FOR EXCEPTION - State reason why facility or element is in whole or part structurally impracticable (for new construction) or technically infeasible (for alterations) to comply with accessibility standard from DIB 01-18.

- Historical Significance
- Existing Terrain
- Environmental Issues
- Right-of-way Constraints
- Conflicts with Other Design Standards
- 48-inch Clear Width Hardship Factors (Check all that apply and provide description below):
 - Cost of providing access
 - Impact of proposed improvements on financial feasibility of the project
 - Nature of the accessibility which be gained or lost
 - Nature of the use of the facility under construction and its availability to persons with disabilities

- Other Significant Consideration(s)
