Working Together to Serve

Memorandum

Date: October 11, 2019

To: Mayor and Members of the City Council

From: Thomas B. Modica, Acting City Manager T.M.

Subject: Long Beach Justice Fund Quarterly Report

As described in the Update on Long Beach Justice Fund (LBJF) memorandum on April 16, 2019, staff implemented a two-year contract with Vera Institute of Justice (Vera) to serve as the fiscal intermediary and program manager of the LBJF. As part of the agreement, Vera coordinated a Request for Proposals (RFP) in partnership with the City and community stakeholders to identify. Through the RFP process, Immigrant Defenders Law Center (ImmDef) was selected as the non-profit legal service provider.

In June 2019, Vera finalized the Program Operational Plan and ImmDef immediately began providing legal representation to qualified individuals. Vera provided its first quarterly report to the City with an update on program implementation as of August 31, 2019 (Attachment). The quarterly report describes the impact of the Justice Fund in Long Beach, including the number of clients served, the status of referrals received, and stories about the individuals and families impacted.

According to the report, ImmDef is serving Long Beach residents detained at the Adelanto Detention Facility in San Bernardino County due to the closure of all immigrant detention facilities in Orange County. ImmDef has received LBJF referrals directly from community organizations such as Long Beach Immigrant Rights Coalition, and through the Legal Orientation Program at Adelanto. Through the LBJF, ImmDef is currently representing ten clients from Long Beach who have lived in the United States for an average of 11 years. Additionally, three children have a parent represented through the LBJF.

Community partners will receive quarterly reports directly as part of the LBJF collaboration. The reports will also be made available hereafter through the Office of Equity's website.

Safety & Fairness for Everyone (SAFE) Network: Long Beach

In 2019, Long Beach was selected to join the Vera Institute of Justice’s Safety and Fairness for Everyone (SAFE) Network—a growing group of jurisdictions around the U.S. that are committed to keeping families together and communities safe and strong by protecting due process and providing legal representation to immigrants facing deportation. SAFE Network Members have dedicated public funding to deportation defense, focusing on serving individuals who are detained.

Why representation matters

Because immigrants facing deportation do not have the guarantee of an attorney to represent them, 70 percent of detained immigrants face deportation alone.¹ Representation promotes due process and dignity, and results in better outcomes—represented immigrants are up to ten times more likely to establish a right to remain in the United States.²

Client Stories

Manuel, a long-time Long Beach resident, has lived with his partner and worked in construction in Long Beach for almost two decades. After he was arrested by ICE, he obtained a lawyer from the Immigrant Defenders Law Center through Long Beach's universal representation program. At his very first immigration court hearing, that lawyer denied all of the government's allegations against Manuel, holding the government to its burden of proving he is not a U.S. Citizen. Since the government could not produce evidence in support of its case, the immigration judge immediately terminated immigration proceedings against Manuel. Because his case was initially terminated, ICE has subsequently tried to place Manuel in immigration proceedings again. However, Manuel knew his rights and refused to sign any documents without the presence of his attorney at Immigrant Defenders Law Center. Although Manuel's second case is currently pending, Manuel's SAFE attorney—provided to him by the City of Long Beach—allowed him to terminate his initial immigration proceedings and assert his rights under the law.
