And Finally

Celebrating the Old and the New on Anaheim St.

It was quite a unique week for the Anaheim Corridor beginning last Friday. In a period of five days, we celebrated the grand opening of two new taverns and the 97th birthday of another. The popularity of these events was amazing with the three announcements generating 250 "likes" on our Facebook sites. It all started on Friday afternoon with the ribbon cutting at Tennessee Jacks at Anaheim and Termino. That was followed on Saturday with the Port City Tavern ribbon cutting at Anaheim and Bennett. On Tuesday, August 10th, Joe Jost's celebrated their 97th year of continuous operation at Anaheim and Temple. With August 10th falling on a Tuesday, I was able to close the council meeting in recognition of this significant milestone. Congratulations to all three establishments! We wish you great/continued success, and thanks for investing in our council district. Go Fourth!
