Special thanks to realtors Janel Winston and Ginette Skelton for hosting a great block party in Park Estates on Sunday featuring live music by The Emperors. Three of the five band members are CD4 residents. Pictured with the band are Janel, Ginette and the councilman.

And Finally...

Ono Hawaiian BBQ at Historical CD4 Location

With the grand opening of Ono Hawaiian BBQ this morning, we thought of the history of the land now occupied by Ralphs Circle Center. The property at 1940 Lakewood Blvd was once the home of Duffield Lincoln-Mercury. The showroom was a spectacular mid-century modern structure designed by famed Long Beach architects, Killingsworth, Brady and Smith. The design was so noteworthy that it was captured by noted architectural photographer, Julius Shulman (b&w photo attached). Adding to the notoriety of the dealership was its owner, USC All-American quarterback, Marshall Duffield. His equally famous son, Marshall "Duffy" Duffield Jr., is the inventor/owner of Duffy electric boats and former Mayor Pro Tem of Newport Beach.

While the loss of the showroom at the NE corner of Lakewood Blvd and Outer Traffic Circle was a sad day for many, the future of the area is very bright for fans of great architecture. Across the street at 1850 Outer Traffic Circle will soon be the home of the new Porsche Long Beach showroom. The design is nothing like the post-and-beam design of the Duffield showroom, but it will be an equally impressive architectural gem (see attached rendering). The new dealership also comes with an equally impressive owner, Fletcher Jones III, who has made a huge investment in the City of Long Beach and our council district. Go Fourth!

Architectural rendering of Duffield Lincoln-Mercury as it appeared in the Press-Telegram on October 21, 1962.
